Telemedicine Consent Form

Jason Blalack · 745 Poplar Ave, Boulder, CO 80304 · (720) 675-7297 · chinesemedicinedoc.com

1. Your practitioner. Jason Blalack is a licensed acupuncturist (L.Ac.) in Colorado, license 864. He is not licensed in any other state or country, is not a medical doctor, and does not prescribe medications.

2. Your location. The laws of the place where you are physically located during a visit apply to that visit. At the start of each visit, you will tell Jason the state or country you are in, and he will record it.

3. What the visit includes, based on where you are during the visit:

- Colorado: care under Jason's Colorado license, which may include a Chinese medicine assessment, custom herbal formulas, supplement recommendations, diet and lifestyle guidance, and review of lab results.
- California, Idaho, Louisiana, Maine, Minnesota, Nevada, New Mexico, Oklahoma, or Rhode Island: a Chinese medicine wellness consultation and functional health coaching, which may include custom herbal formulas, supplement recommendations, guidance on lab tests and review of your results, and diet and lifestyle guidance. You will also sign the disclosure your state requires.
- Alabama or South Dakota: general health education only, without personalized diet or supplement plans.
- Any other state or country: functional health coaching, which may include guidance on lab tests you order yourself, review of your results, supplement recommendations, and diet and lifestyle guidance. No custom herbal formulas.

Outside Colorado, Jason is not acting as your licensed health care provider. He does not diagnose or treat disease, prescribe, or recommend stopping any treatment your physician has prescribed. In New York, New Jersey, and Rhode Island, your own physician must order lab tests.

4. Herbs, supplements, and labs. Herbs and supplements have not been evaluated by the FDA to diagnose, treat, cure, or prevent any disease, and they can cause side effects or interact with medications. Tell Jason about all medications and supplements you take and whether you are pregnant, may become pregnant, or are breastfeeding, and tell your physicians what you take. If you have a reaction, stop and contact Jason and your physician. You are responsible for sharing lab results with your physicians; Jason reviews results only at scheduled visits and does not monitor them for urgent findings.

5. Limits and emergencies. Video visits include no physical exam or acupuncture, and Jason may recommend in-person care or another provider. Telemedicine is not for emergencies: call 911 or go to the nearest emergency room. You agree to keep a primary care physician or other licensed provider where you live; these visits do not replace their care.

6. Privacy. Visits take place by Google Meet or phone and, like any electronic communication, carry a small risk of interruption or unauthorized access. Visits are not recorded without your written permission. Please join from a private place. Records are kept at the Boulder office.

7. Fees and your choices. Fees are listed on the practice website and are due at the time of the visit; the cancellation policy applies. You may decline telemedicine, skip any question you prefer not to answer, or withdraw this consent in writing at any time; declining does not affect your access to in-person care. This agreement is governed by Colorado law.

8. No guarantee; liability. No result is guaranteed. You are responsible for following the laws where you are located. To the extent allowed by law, Jason Blalack and his practice are not liable for outcomes of information, recommendations, or products provided through these visits; nothing here limits liability that cannot be limited by law.

I have read this form, had the chance to ask questions, and agree to telemedicine visits on these terms.
